

For parents of children aged 7 and under. A workshop using puppets and different communication systems to engage, motivate and make learning fun.

This is what parents who have attended this workshop had to say:

'Excellent workshop. I have learnt lots today - very useful information'

'Very good, very useful, very different-loved it, nice atmosphere and very friendly'

'Sue's experience as a parent really contributes to the workshops she runs'

'It was really important to help me to relook at non-verbal cues and question behaviour, understand having fun, getting a different perspective and using everyday objects to make things interesting'

'I am feeling more confident about how to communicate with my child'
